Travel Information

Visitor Centres

Local experts in more than 100 communities throughout British Columbia provide travel planning assistance as well as travel details, including special events and places only the locals know about. They can also help you book approved accommodations, tours and activities. Watch for this sign as you travel throughout the province, and visit HelloBC.com/visitorcentres for a complete listing of the Visitor Centre locations.

Customs Information

ENTRY INTO CANADA: The Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative requires all persons (including US citizens) who enter or re-enter the United States via air, land or sea from any foreign destination to have a passport or other accepted form of documentation. International visitors to Canada who are not US citizens must be in possession of a valid national passport and may also require a visa. Contact the nearest Canadian Consulate or Embassy for more information.

PLEASURE BOATS/PRIVATE AIRCRAFT: Boaters must contact Canada Customs upon arrival at an approved reporting site. Private aircraft must contact Canada Customs prior to arrival. For more information, visit HelloBC.com/travelinfo.

Driving Laws & Regulations

Driver's Licenses: A valid out-of-province driver's license (including an international license) can be used in BC for up to six months.

SEATBELTS must be worn by drivers and passengers. Strict car/booster seat regulations are in place for children up to nine years old or 145 centimetres (57 inches) tall. Visit www.icbc.com/road-safety for more details.

HELMETS are required for all bicyclists and motorcyclists.

MOBILE PHONES: It is against the law to drive while using a handheld mobile phone or other electronic device. Drivers must use hands-free mobile phones that are voice activated, or activated by one touch, provided they are securely attached to the vehicle or the driver's body (such as with an earpiece). For more information, visit www.icbc.com/road-safety/drivers-passengers/distractions.pdf.

DRINKING AND DRIVING: It is a criminal offence to operate, or be in the care or control of a vehicle, whether in motion or not, with a blood alcohol content of more than .08 per cent. Drivers with a blood alcohol content between .05 and .08 may also face fines and license suspensions, and have their vehicles impounded. Breath samples may be requested by a peace officer.

VEHICLE ACCIDENTS: If you are involved in an accident, immediately contact the local police or RCMP, then your insurance company.

RIGHT ON RED: You may turn right on a red light after a full stop, unless signs indicate otherwise.

National & Provincial Parks

BC'S PROVINCIAL PARKS: To book a campsite or to make Bowron Lake or Berg Lake Trail backcountry reservations, contact the Discover Camping reservation service at www.discovercamping.ca or 1-800-689-9025. For general information on BC's provincial parks, visit www.bcparks.ca.

BC'S NATIONAL PARKS: For information on the national parks in BC, visit www.parkscanada.ca or phone 1-888-773-8888. For information and reservations on the West Coast Trail (Pacific Rim National Park Reserve), visit www.parkscanada.ca/pacificrim or call 1-866-727-5722.
